About Island Health

Island Health is one of British Columbia's regional health authorities. With more than 24,500 employees, 1,900 physician partners and 3,000 volunteers, Island Health is the largest employer on Vancouver Island, providing a comprehensive range of progressive health services to the 765,000 residents of Vancouver Island and adjacent coastal communities.

Nanaimo Regional General Hospital (NRGH) is a level 3 Trauma Centre for Vancouver Island that serves patients from the Malahat North. Our 10-bed ICU cares for critically ill patients and we are opening a new High Acuity Unit in October 2021. Both the ICU and HAU are staffed with specialty trained nurses. A new ICU/HAU building project is currently under development. Additional specialties include renal services.

Royal Jubilee Hospital (RJH) is a tertiary level hospital that cares for sick medical/surgical patients, with a primary focus on renal, vascular, thoracic, cardiac and burn focused specialties. Our 11-bed ICU cares for critically ill patients and in October 2020, RJH will open a new 8-bed High Acuity Unit which will be staffed with specialty trained nurses.

Victoria General Hospital (VGH) is designated as a level 2 Trauma Centre for Vancouver Island and is the tertiary referral centre for Neurosciences. Additional specialties include maternity, women's health and pediatrics. Our 9-bed ICU cares for critically ill patients and in the fall of 2020, VGH will be opening a new 6-bed High Acuity Unit which will be staffed with specialty trained nurses.

We offer an exceptional employer-paid benefits package including dental and prescription coverage, group life, long term disability and extensive extended health plan, plus up to four weeks' vacation after your first year of employment.

Excellent health and care for everyone, everywhere, every time
