

Healthy People, Healthy Communities - For Generations

Nova Scotia Health is the largest provider of health services in Nova Scotia, with some specialized services also offered to clients throughout Atlantic Canada. We're on a mission to achieve excellence in health, healing and learning through working together, which is reflected in the hospitals, health centres and community-based programs we operate across the province. Our passionate team of professionals provides a variety of high-quality inpatient and outpatient services including academic, tertiary, and quaternary care, as well as continuing care, primary health care, public health, and mental health and addictions. Join a diverse team of innovators, collaborators and creative thinkers today.

Nova Scotia Health employs professionals in all corners of our beautiful province. We believe there's a place here for everyone to call home, from vibrant cities with exuberant nightlife to quaint towns with picturesque trails. The work-life balance that comes with a Nova Scotia Health role means you'll have the time to explore, discover, and participate in that coveted Atlantic lifestyle. Visit us today or check out www.novascotia.com and see why more people from across the globe are moving here.

Our Nurses work in collaborative environments with strong interprofessional teams, focused on a patient-centred care model in a richly diverse workspace. Under the direction and general supervision of the Health Services Manager, the Registered Nurse (RN) utilizes the nursing process, critical thinking and problem-solving skills to provide quality, safe, and patient-family centred care. The RN is responsible for the overall coordination and direction of nursing care in the critical care unit. The RN provides clinical leadership, particularly in complex or unpredictable patient/client care settings. The RN is accountable for the development, implementation and ongoing evaluation of the plan of care to achieve patient/client outcomes.

3A Medical/Surgical ICU and 5.2 Medical/Surgical Neuro ICU are located at Nova Scotia's largest healthcare facility, the QEII Health Sciences Centre. We are an academic teaching centre and are affiliated with Dalhousie University and provide a learning environment for many healthcare professionals as well as opportunities for research and advances in care.

What We Offer
