World PICU Awareness Week 2022

May 9 - 13 May

The regional committee members have been working extremely hard putting together the #WPAW22 recordings that showcases the best of #PedsICU around the globe.

The theme for WPAW 2022 is – the Family in the PICU.

Each region is organizing a 45 min pre-recorded webinar which will be launched on their awareness day & includes a live Q&A component. There is still time to register - join us for a week of #PedsICU learning!

Factors Influencing Canadian Community Intensive Care Unit (ICU) Participation in Clinical Research - A Qualitative Descriptive Study RN Recruitment

The research team is interested in interviewing community hospital stakeholders about their experience or interest in engaging research in community ICUs. Nurses, nurse leaders and researchers are critical members of research teams, and it is imperative to include their perspectives in research program development.

The Canadian Journal of Critical Care Nursing

Summer Journal

As you are aware, over the past few years, we have been reviewing, revitalizing, and formulating a plan to move the Canadian Journal of Critical Care Nursing forward to ensure the journal's quality, sustainability, and position within the broader critical care nursing scholarship.

Due to circumstances beyond our control, the Editorial Management Team of the Canadian Journal of Critical Care Nursing (CJCCN), has determined we will not be producing the Canadian Journal of Critical Care Nursing, Summer 2022 issue.

The Editorial Team has agreed we will commit to publication of two issues of the Canadian Journal of Critical Care Nursing - Fall (August/September) and Winter (November/December) 2022.

We thank you for your support and should you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact the Editorial Team at cjccneditor@caccn.ca or Christine Halfkenny-Zellas, COO at 866-477-9077 or caccn@caccn.ca.
