ASSOCIATION OF CRITICAL CARE
NURSES

Did you successfully write or renew for CNA Critical Care Certification in 2024?

The CACCN BC Chapter has $2000 to distribute evenly amongst successful 2024 members – for initial certification or renewal.

This is one way your BC Chapter is helping support professional development, commitment to nursing excellence and continuing competence.

To apply, please send us your successful completion email from CNA by March 31, 2025. Please also include the address you'd like us to send the cheque to.
britishcolumbia@caccn.ca

We'll send you a cheque for your portion once we confirm you are not a recipient of the National CACCN bursary for this (awarded the first week of April), we'll send you a cheque for your portion.

Please consider applying for the National CACCN Bursaries - Initial and Renewal.

- 1. You must be a CACCN member for one year at the time you submit the email confirmation by March 31, 2025.
- 2. You must confirm you haven't received funding through an alternate source, such as your employer, nurse education fund, nursing organization or other bursary/bursaries specific to specialty nursing certification.

Please visit <https://caccn.ca/education-certification-resources/certification/> for more information, including member only links for study resources provided by the CACCN, your national specialty nursing association.

If you have any questions, please email britishcolumbia@caccn.ca
